When we say that New York City has hotels to please every kind of visitor, we mean it—and that includes the four-legged variety. The five boroughs have a wide selection of properties that welcome dogs and cats, including many with added perks like luxury pet bedding, dog walkers and gourmet pet-food room service. Here are nine hotels to consider if you’re bringing your furry friend with you to NYC.

Note: Every pet-friendly hotel has its own specific policies to ensure the comfort of all human, feline and canine guests, so please call ahead to make sure your pet is eligible to stay there.
Andaz Wall Street (/hotels/andaz-wall-street)
This upscale boutique hotel from Hyatt features large, loft-style rooms and subdued modern decor. Its location in Lower Manhattan’s Financial District puts guests close to major historical attractions, including the New York Stock Exchange and Federal Hall, site of George Washington’s inauguration.

What to Do in the Neighborhood with Your Pet: Enjoy the hotel’s beer garden (pictured above), or stroll through the historic Financial District (/boroughs-neighborhoods/manhattan/lower-manhattan) and dine outdoors by the water at South Street Seaport (/attractions/seaport-district-nyc).
DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel Metropolitan (/hotels/doubletree-by-hilton-hotel-metropolitan-new-york-city)
This Midtown East property, the beneficiary of a recent $25 million upgrade, features an on-site fitness center and is within walking distance of major NYC attractions—Rockefeller Center and Radio City Music Hall, shopping at Saks Fifth Avenue and Bloomingdale's, as well as the Museum of Modern Art.

What to Do in the Neighborhood with Your Pet: Peter Detmold Park (http://www.nycgovparks.org/parks/peter-detmold-park), located beside the East River, offers a secluded dog run; it's close to attractions like Japan Society (/museums-galleries/japan-society) and the United Nations (/attractions/united-nations).
Loews Regency Hotel (/hotels/loews-regency-new-york)
This luxury Park Avenue property features an on-site Restore Salon & Spa. The hotel is located close to Central Park and the Upper East Side's renowned Madison Avenue boutiques, as well as culturally rich Museum Mile, which includes the Met Fifth Avenue and Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum.

Pet Perks: The Loews Regency goes the extra mile with a room service menu designed especially for cats and dogs, prepared by the same executive chef who caters to human guests. They'll also arrange pet walking, pet sitting and other essentials, so your furry friend can experience the hotel's exquisite level of pampering.

What to Do in the Neighborhood with Your Pet: Again, you're right near Central Park—your pet will have the world's greatest urban backyard to explore.
The Muse Hotel (hotels/the-muse-hotel)
This boutique property, situated just off Times Square, has hip design touches and is dedicated to tailoring its service to each guest's needs.

Pet Perks: The Muse employs a French Bulldog, Ms. Liza Minnelli Brookshire, as its director of pet relations (https://www.kimptonhotels.com/blog/kimpton-directors-of-pet-relations-its-a-dogs-life), and offers amenities like comfortable pet beds, treats and a list of nearby pet-friendly restaurants, boutiques and parks.

What to Do in the Neighborhood with Your Pet: Take in the energy of Times Square (/boroughs-neighborhoods/manhattan/times-square) or relax in leafy Bryant Park (/venues/bryant-park), adjacent to the famed main branch of the New York Public Library (/attractions/new-york-public-library), which welcomes four-legged friends.
Just steps from Central Park, the Park Lane Hotel offers guests a luxury experience with spacious rooms and suites that have first-rate amenities and picturesque views. The 46-story hotel is also conveniently located near Fifth Avenue shopping, Broadway theater and Radio City Music Hall.

Pet Perks: The Pooch Package (https://parklanenewyork.com/offers/pooch-package) gives visiting canines their own doggy bed, food and water bowls and treats; a calendar of nearby events is included.

What to Do in the Neighborhood with Your Pet: Check out Central Park (/boroughs-neighborhoods/manhattan/central-park), where your four-legged family members are welcome all over its 843 acres (save for a few restricted sections (https://www.centralparknyc.org/activities/dogs)). Central Park has a few doggy drinking fountains as well as off-leash hours before 9am and after 9pm.
Parker New York (hotels/parker-new-york)
This high-end hotel in Midtown West, near Columbus Circle, features a distinctive penthouse pool and four on-site restaurants (including Burger Joint, a popular destination for hamburgers)—plus rooms that are all more than 300 square feet.

Pet Perks: The hotel is pet-friendly and will allow animals of any size to stay; the front desk is happy to help arrange for any additional amenities you or your pet might desire.

What to Do in the Neighborhood with Your Pet: Take a short walk from the hotel to Central Park (/boroughs-neighborhoods/manhattan/central-park) and watch your pooch's tail wag at all the exciting sights and sounds.
Shelburne Hotel & Suites by Affinia (/hotels/shelburne-nyc-an-affinia-hotel)
This intimate hotel is in Murray Hill, a residential enclave on Manhattan's east side, and features spa-like bathrooms and select urban kitchens, a rooftop bar with sweeping skyline views and the Rare Bar & Grill downstairs. Nearby attractions include the Morgan Library & Museum; a little farther afield (but still within walking distance) is the Empire State Building.

Pet Perks: The Shelburne caters to dogs and cats with a VIPaws Pet Program. Benefits include a big, comfy pet bed from Jax & Bones—the eco-friendly pet bedding company—and maps of great places to explore with your dog.

What to Do in the Neighborhood with Your Pet: Check out a Murray Hill bar or restaurant with outdoor seating where you can bring your pet along for the fun, or walk to the East River Esplanade for waterfront views of Queens.
Staypineapple, An Artful Hotel, Midtown New York (/hotels/staypineapple-an-artful-hotel-midtown-new-york)
This Midtown boutique hotel is focused on thoughtful amenities like European-style double duvets, cozy bathrobes and their signature pineapple-shaped sugar cookies, served each afternoon. Nearby attractions include Madison Square Garden, Hudson Yards and the Javits Center.

Pet Perks: The Pineapple Pup Package (https://www.staypineapple.com/midtown-new-york/special-offers/pineapple-pup-package) welcomes your faithful friend with a doggy bed, colorful water bowl and daily treats. Those without canines, don’t despair: each room includes a stuffed husky, available for purchase.

What to Do in the Neighborhood with Your Pet: Take a walk from the hotel to Pier 84 Dog Park (https://hudsonriverpark.org/explore-the-park/map#activities=pier-84-dog-park), where dogs can run off leash, or Bryant Park (/venues/bryant-park), which welcomes four-legged companions.
The Williamsburg Hotel ( /hotels/the-williamsburg-hotel)
Located in one of Brooklyn’s coolest neighborhoods, the modern Williamsburg Hotel has 147 guest rooms with floor-to-ceiling windows and eclectic decor throughout its space. The property is close to the shops, bars and restaurants of Bedford Avenue, but its on-site rooftop pool and Water Tower Bar offer reasons to stay on-site. For a start, there are the unobstructed views of the Manhattan skyline.

Pet Perks: Furry friends are welcomed with doggy beds and special treats.

What to Do in the Neighborhood with Your Pet: It’s just a short walk to the dog run at East River State Park, where you’ll find stunning East River and Manhattan views. The park hosts the food fair Smorgasburg on Saturdays in the spring and summer.
